

CARE TO CONNECT

Community Inspiration and Announcements

April 14, 2020

FROM THE DESK OF

Rebecca Buell Emerson, Executive Director

The need for authentic human connection is felt now perhaps more than ever. With social distancing, some people are in their homes alone with platforms like Zoom, Skype, or FaceTime as their only connection to a physically separated world. For others, the nonstop physical presence of family members creates even more need for empathy, understanding, care, and yes, patience. At Our Community Listens we want to share with you the tools of better communication and connection to help you during this trying time.

Our new ePublication, “Care to Connect” highlights opportunities to expand and refresh your current skills for those relationships that matter most. We hope you find these webinars, blogs, podcasts, and community connection sessions helpful as we weather this crisis together. In these days, our mission remains the same—to equip you with the tools for real, authentic, caring and healthy human connection.

#CareToConnect CHALLENGE

Most of us can appreciate this “To Do” list for our new normal:

Do you have a Social Media post you’d like to share with us? Just tag @OurCommunityListens and include #CareToConnect and we’ll find it!

CARE TO SHARE?

Would you be willing to share your story of experience, strength or hope while living in the midst of a global health crisis? If so, please submit it here. We may use your story in an upcoming newsletter, blog or social media post.

What’s New?

Webinars:

“Living in an Ever-Changing World”

- Thurs, Apr. 23, 11:30am – 1pm
- Tues, Apr. 28, 7:30pm – 9pm

Podcast:

“Reflecting, Connecting and Future”

Blog Post:

“The Joy of Being Known, Being Heard”